Sample Mystic’s Natal birth chart

Utica, New York, United States · November 5, 1996 at 2:30 PM EST
Tropical · Placidus houses · modern rulership

Ascendant: Pisces 16°29′ · Midheaven: Sagittarius 23°11′

Astrology is a symbolic tradition, not a scientific personality assessment or prediction. House positions depend on an accurate birth time. Sidereal uses a mean Lahiri model accurate to within 0.01° over 1900–2100.

☉ Sun

♏ 13°40′ Scorpio · House 8

☽ Moon

♍ 10°44′ Virgo · House 6

☿ Mercury

♏ 16°00′ Scorpio · House 8

♀ Venus

♎ 8°51′ Libra · House 7

♂ Mars

♍ 3°35′ Virgo · House 6

♃ Jupiter

♑ 13°36′ Capricorn · House 10

♄ Saturn

♈ 1°17′ Aries · House 1 · Retrograde

♅ Uranus

♒ 0°57′ Aquarius · House 11

♆ Neptune

♑ 25°14′ Capricorn · House 11

♇ Pluto

♐ 2°15′ Sagittarius · House 9

Ascendant, Midheaven & chart angles

Ascendant (ASC) in Pisces

Self & first impressions · Pisces 16°29′

The Ascendant is the ecliptic point rising on the eastern horizon at birth. In astrology it describes an approach to new situations and the way you begin presenting yourself to others.

Ascendant in Pisces emphasizes imagination, empathy and sensitivity to experiences that resist neat definitions. Read this together with the ruler's placement and the rest of the chart.

Its modern ruler, Neptune, is in Capricorn and house 11. This links self & first impressions with friendships, groups, shared projects and your hopes for the future.

ASC aspects

Ascendant Trine Mercury · 0°28′ · Separating

Ascendant Trine Sun · 2°49′ · Separating

Ascendant Sextile Jupiter · 2°53′ · Separating

Ascendant Opposition Moon · 5°45′ · Separating

Midheaven (MC) in Sagittarius

Vocation & public life · Sagittarius 23°11′

The Midheaven is the upper intersection of the meridian with the ecliptic. Astrologers connect it with public responsibilities, vocation and the contribution you want to be recognized for.

Midheaven in Sagittarius emphasizes exploration, conviction and the search for a larger context. Read this together with the ruler's placement and the rest of the chart.

Its modern ruler, Jupiter, is in Capricorn and house 10. This links vocation & public life with public responsibilities, career direction and the contribution you want others to recognize.

MC aspects

No major aspects within the selected orb.

Descendant (DC) in Virgo

Partnerships & agreements · Virgo 16°29′

The Descendant is opposite the Ascendant. Its symbolism concerns one-to-one relationships, the qualities you notice in others and the agreements you make together.

Descendant in Virgo emphasizes discernment, practical care and the desire to improve what you encounter. Read this together with the ruler's placement and the rest of the chart.

Its modern ruler, Mercury, is in Scorpio and house 8. This links partnerships & agreements with shared finances, trust, intimacy and experiences of release or transition.

DC aspects

Descendant Sextile Mercury · 0°28′ · Separating

Descendant Sextile Sun · 2°49′ · Separating

Descendant Trine Jupiter · 2°53′ · Separating

Descendant Conjunction Moon · 5°45′ · Separating

Imum Coeli (IC) in Gemini

Home & foundations · Gemini 23°11′

The Imum Coeli is opposite the Midheaven. Its symbolism concerns privacy, home, roots and the foundations that support life outside the public eye.

Imum Coeli in Gemini emphasizes curiosity, conversation and the ability to consider more than one perspective. Read this together with the ruler's placement and the rest of the chart.

Its modern ruler, Mercury, is in Scorpio and house 8. This links home & foundations with shared finances, trust, intimacy and experiences of release or transition.

IC aspects

No major aspects within the selected orb.

Your planets: signs & houses

Sun in Scorpio · House 8

Scorpio 13°40′ · Direct

The Sun describes a way of developing confidence and expressing a coherent sense of self. Its sign suggests the qualities you may practice as you become more comfortable choosing your own direction.

In Scorpio, Sun's themes of identity and vitality are expressed through depth, emotional honesty and an interest in what lies beneath the surface. In house 8 (Shared resources & change), consider how this relates to shared finances, trust, intimacy and experiences of release or transition.

Direct motion means the apparent zodiac longitude was increasing at birth. Read this placement together with the rest of the chart rather than as a standalone verdict.

Moon in Virgo · House 6

Virgo 10°44′ · Direct

The Moon symbolizes familiar responses, sources of comfort and the rhythms that help you feel at home. Its sign offers a vocabulary for emotional needs; it is not a diagnosis or a fixed description of how you must feel.

In Virgo, Moon's themes of emotional needs and habitual responses are expressed through discernment, practical care and the desire to improve what you encounter. In house 6 (Daily life & care), consider how this relates to routines, work habits, useful service and the practical ways you care for yourself.

Direct motion means the apparent zodiac longitude was increasing at birth. Read this placement together with the rest of the chart rather than as a standalone verdict.

Mercury in Scorpio · House 8

Scorpio 16°00′ · Direct

Mercury describes how you gather information, make connections and put experience into words. Its placement can be a useful prompt for considering which kinds of conversation, study and decision making suit you.

In Scorpio, Mercury's themes of communication and learning are expressed through depth, emotional honesty and an interest in what lies beneath the surface. In house 8 (Shared resources & change), consider how this relates to shared finances, trust, intimacy and experiences of release or transition.

Direct motion means the apparent zodiac longitude was increasing at birth. Read this placement together with the rest of the chart rather than as a standalone verdict.

Venus in Libra · House 7

Libra 8°51′ · Direct

Venus symbolizes attraction, enjoyment and the values that guide relationship choices. Consider both what feels beautiful to you and how you negotiate giving, receiving and mutual respect.

In Libra, Venus's themes of values, connection and pleasure are expressed through cooperation, aesthetic balance and attention to fairness between people. In house 7 (Partnerships), consider how this relates to one-to-one relationships, agreements, collaboration and the negotiation of differences.

Direct motion means the apparent zodiac longitude was increasing at birth. Read this placement together with the rest of the chart rather than as a standalone verdict.

Mars in Virgo · House 6

Virgo 3°35′ · Direct

Mars describes the expression of effort and desire: how you begin, pursue a goal and respond to friction. Its symbolism can help you distinguish a clear boundary from an impulsive reaction.

In Virgo, Mars's themes of initiative, desire and boundaries are expressed through discernment, practical care and the desire to improve what you encounter. In house 6 (Daily life & care), consider how this relates to routines, work habits, useful service and the practical ways you care for yourself.

Direct motion means the apparent zodiac longitude was increasing at birth. Read this placement together with the rest of the chart rather than as a standalone verdict.

Jupiter in Capricorn · House 10

Capricorn 13°36′ · Direct

Jupiter points to the search for possibility, learning and a larger sense of meaning. Its gifts are easier to use when enthusiasm is accompanied by realistic limits rather than assumptions that every opportunity will work out.

In Capricorn, Jupiter's themes of growth, meaning and opportunity are expressed through patience, responsibility and a commitment to making plans tangible. In house 10 (Vocation & public life), consider how this relates to public responsibilities, career direction and the contribution you want others to recognize.

Direct motion means the apparent zodiac longitude was increasing at birth. Read this placement together with the rest of the chart rather than as a standalone verdict.

Saturn in Aries · House 1

Aries 1°17′ · Retrograde

Saturn symbolizes skills developed through repetition, boundaries and the responsibilities you choose to carry. This placement can describe an area where confidence grows gradually as you gain experience.

In Aries, Saturn's themes of structure, limits and commitment are expressed through directness, initiative and the willingness to begin before everything is certain. In house 1 (Self & first impressions), consider how this relates to how you approach unfamiliar situations, present yourself and begin acting on your own behalf.

Retrograde means the planet appeared to move backward along the zodiac from Earth. Symbolically, you might explore a more reflective or personally defined relationship with these themes; it does not mean the planet is physically moving backward.

Uranus in Aquarius · House 11

Aquarius 0°57′ · Direct

Uranus is associated with departures from habit and the wish to do things differently. Because it moves slowly, its sign is shared by many people; its house is more specific to the birth time and place.

In Aquarius, Uranus's themes of change, independence and experimentation are expressed through independent thinking, experimentation and concern for the wider community. In house 11 (Community & hopes), consider how this relates to friendships, groups, shared projects and your hopes for the future.

Direct motion means the apparent zodiac longitude was increasing at birth. Read this placement together with the rest of the chart rather than as a standalone verdict.

Neptune in Capricorn · House 11

Capricorn 25°14′ · Direct

Neptune symbolizes dreams, inspiration and the difficulty of separating an ideal from what is actually available. Its slow-moving sign is generational; its house can focus reflection on where clarity and compassion need to work together.

In Capricorn, Neptune's themes of imagination, ideals and ambiguity are expressed through patience, responsibility and a commitment to making plans tangible. In house 11 (Community & hopes), consider how this relates to friendships, groups, shared projects and your hopes for the future.

Direct motion means the apparent zodiac longitude was increasing at birth. Read this placement together with the rest of the chart rather than as a standalone verdict.

Pluto in Sagittarius · House 9

Sagittarius 2°15′ · Direct

Pluto is associated with deep change, questions of control and the rebuilding that follows an ending. Its sign belongs to a generation, so avoid treating that sign alone as a unique personality label.

In Sagittarius, Pluto's themes of power, endings and renewal are expressed through exploration, conviction and the search for a larger context. In house 9 (Beliefs & exploration), consider how this relates to higher education, travel, philosophy and the frameworks you use to make meaning.

Direct motion means the apparent zodiac longitude was increasing at birth. Read this placement together with the rest of the chart rather than as a standalone verdict.

Your twelve houses

House 1 · Self & first impressions · Pisces 16°29′

House 1 concerns how you approach unfamiliar situations, present yourself and begin acting on your own behalf. With Pisces on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes imagination, empathy and sensitivity to experiences that resist neat definitions. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 1: Neptune

In modern rulership, Pisces is ruled by Neptune. The ruler of house 1 is therefore Neptune, located at Capricorn 25°14′ in house 11.

Neptune in Capricorn brings themes of imagination, ideals and ambiguity into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes patience, responsibility and a commitment to making plans tangible.

The ruler of house 1 in house 11 connects how you approach unfamiliar situations, present yourself and begin acting on your own behalf with friendships, groups, shared projects and your hopes for the future. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 1

Saturn

House 2 · Resources & values · Taurus 2°41′

House 2 concerns money, possessions, practical security and the values that shape your use of resources. With Taurus on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes steadiness, sensory awareness and a preference for building something that lasts. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 2: Venus

In modern rulership, Taurus is ruled by Venus. The ruler of house 2 is therefore Venus, located at Libra 8°51′ in house 7.

Venus in Libra brings themes of values, connection and pleasure into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes cooperation, aesthetic balance and attention to fairness between people.

The ruler of house 2 in house 7 connects money, possessions, practical security and the values that shape your use of resources with one-to-one relationships, agreements, collaboration and the negotiation of differences. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 2

No planets in this house.

House 3 · Communication & learning · Gemini 1°30′

House 3 concerns everyday conversations, siblings, local connections and the skills you practice regularly. With Gemini on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes curiosity, conversation and the ability to consider more than one perspective. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 3: Mercury

In modern rulership, Gemini is ruled by Mercury. The ruler of house 3 is therefore Mercury, located at Scorpio 16°00′ in house 8.

Mercury in Scorpio brings themes of communication and learning into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes depth, emotional honesty and an interest in what lies beneath the surface.

The ruler of house 3 in house 8 connects everyday conversations, siblings, local connections and the skills you practice regularly with shared finances, trust, intimacy and experiences of release or transition. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 3

No planets in this house.

House 4 · Home & roots · Gemini 23°11′

House 4 concerns home life, family history, privacy and the foundations that help you feel supported. With Gemini on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes curiosity, conversation and the ability to consider more than one perspective. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 4: Mercury

In modern rulership, Gemini is ruled by Mercury. The ruler of house 4 is therefore Mercury, located at Scorpio 16°00′ in house 8.

Mercury in Scorpio brings themes of communication and learning into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes depth, emotional honesty and an interest in what lies beneath the surface.

The ruler of house 4 in house 8 connects home life, family history, privacy and the foundations that help you feel supported with shared finances, trust, intimacy and experiences of release or transition. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 4

No planets in this house.

House 5 · Creativity & enjoyment · Cancer 13°42′

House 5 concerns creative risks, play, romance and the activities you pursue for their own sake. With Cancer on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes emotional memory, protection and a need for meaningful belonging. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 5: Moon

In modern rulership, Cancer is ruled by Moon. The ruler of house 5 is therefore Moon, located at Virgo 10°44′ in house 6.

Moon in Virgo brings themes of emotional needs and habitual responses into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes discernment, practical care and the desire to improve what you encounter.

The ruler of house 5 in house 6 connects creative risks, play, romance and the activities you pursue for their own sake with routines, work habits, useful service and the practical ways you care for yourself. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 5

No planets in this house.

House 6 · Daily life & care · Leo 8°12′

House 6 concerns routines, work habits, useful service and the practical ways you care for yourself. With Leo on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes creative expression, warmth and the courage to be seen. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 6: Sun

In modern rulership, Leo is ruled by Sun. The ruler of house 6 is therefore Sun, located at Scorpio 13°40′ in house 8.

Sun in Scorpio brings themes of identity and vitality into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes depth, emotional honesty and an interest in what lies beneath the surface.

The ruler of house 6 in house 8 connects routines, work habits, useful service and the practical ways you care for yourself with shared finances, trust, intimacy and experiences of release or transition. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 6

Moon, Mars

House 7 · Partnerships · Virgo 16°29′

House 7 concerns one-to-one relationships, agreements, collaboration and the negotiation of differences. With Virgo on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes discernment, practical care and the desire to improve what you encounter. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 7: Mercury

In modern rulership, Virgo is ruled by Mercury. The ruler of house 7 is therefore Mercury, located at Scorpio 16°00′ in house 8.

Mercury in Scorpio brings themes of communication and learning into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes depth, emotional honesty and an interest in what lies beneath the surface.

The ruler of house 7 in house 8 connects one-to-one relationships, agreements, collaboration and the negotiation of differences with shared finances, trust, intimacy and experiences of release or transition. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 7

Venus

House 8 · Shared resources & change · Scorpio 2°41′

House 8 concerns shared finances, trust, intimacy and experiences of release or transition. With Scorpio on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes depth, emotional honesty and an interest in what lies beneath the surface. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 8: Pluto

In modern rulership, Scorpio is ruled by Pluto. The ruler of house 8 is therefore Pluto, located at Sagittarius 2°15′ in house 9.

Pluto in Sagittarius brings themes of power, endings and renewal into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes exploration, conviction and the search for a larger context.

The ruler of house 8 in house 9 connects shared finances, trust, intimacy and experiences of release or transition with higher education, travel, philosophy and the frameworks you use to make meaning. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 8

Sun, Mercury

House 9 · Beliefs & exploration · Sagittarius 1°30′

House 9 concerns higher education, travel, philosophy and the frameworks you use to make meaning. With Sagittarius on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes exploration, conviction and the search for a larger context. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 9: Jupiter

In modern rulership, Sagittarius is ruled by Jupiter. The ruler of house 9 is therefore Jupiter, located at Capricorn 13°36′ in house 10.

Jupiter in Capricorn brings themes of growth, meaning and opportunity into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes patience, responsibility and a commitment to making plans tangible.

The ruler of house 9 in house 10 connects higher education, travel, philosophy and the frameworks you use to make meaning with public responsibilities, career direction and the contribution you want others to recognize. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 9

Pluto

House 10 · Vocation & public life · Sagittarius 23°11′

House 10 concerns public responsibilities, career direction and the contribution you want others to recognize. With Sagittarius on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes exploration, conviction and the search for a larger context. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 10: Jupiter

In modern rulership, Sagittarius is ruled by Jupiter. The ruler of house 10 is therefore Jupiter, located at Capricorn 13°36′ in house 10.

Jupiter in Capricorn brings themes of growth, meaning and opportunity into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes patience, responsibility and a commitment to making plans tangible.

The ruler of house 10 in house 10 connects public responsibilities, career direction and the contribution you want others to recognize with public responsibilities, career direction and the contribution you want others to recognize. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 10

Jupiter

House 11 · Community & hopes · Capricorn 13°42′

House 11 concerns friendships, groups, shared projects and your hopes for the future. With Capricorn on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes patience, responsibility and a commitment to making plans tangible. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 11: Saturn

In modern rulership, Capricorn is ruled by Saturn. The ruler of house 11 is therefore Saturn, located at Aries 1°17′ in house 1.

Saturn in Aries brings themes of structure, limits and commitment into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes directness, initiative and the willingness to begin before everything is certain.

The ruler of house 11 in house 1 connects friendships, groups, shared projects and your hopes for the future with how you approach unfamiliar situations, present yourself and begin acting on your own behalf. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 11

Uranus, Neptune

House 12 · Rest & inner life · Aquarius 8°12′

House 12 concerns solitude, reflection, hidden patterns and the space you need away from public demands. With Aquarius on its cusp, its symbolic approach emphasizes independent thinking, experimentation and concern for the wider community. Planets in this house add their own themes; an empty house still has meaning and does not imply that this part of life is missing.

Ruler of house 12: Uranus

In modern rulership, Aquarius is ruled by Uranus. The ruler of house 12 is therefore Uranus, located at Aquarius 0°57′ in house 11.

Uranus in Aquarius brings themes of change, independence and experimentation into the discussion. Its symbolic approach emphasizes independent thinking, experimentation and concern for the wider community.

The ruler of house 12 in house 11 connects solitude, reflection, hidden patterns and the space you need away from public demands with friendships, groups, shared projects and your hopes for the future. Consider how choices in one area support or complicate the other; this is a reflection prompt rather than a prediction.

Planets in house 12

No planets in this house.

Major planetary aspects

Sun Sextile Jupiter · 0°04′ · Separating

This relationship is traditionally read as a useful opening between the two themes. It suggests an option to practice cooperation, rather than a benefit that arrives without participation.

Saturn Sextile Uranus · 0°20′ · Applying

This relationship is traditionally read as a useful opening between the two themes. It suggests an option to practice cooperation, rather than a benefit that arrives without participation.

Saturn Trine Pluto · 0°58′ · Separating

This relationship is traditionally associated with ease and familiar strengths. Notice what already works, and consider how to use it deliberately rather than taking it for granted.

Uranus Sextile Pluto · 1°18′ · Separating

This relationship is traditionally read as a useful opening between the two themes. It suggests an option to practice cooperation, rather than a benefit that arrives without participation.

Mars Square Pluto · 1°20′ · Separating

This angle symbolizes friction between needs that do not automatically fit together. Experiment with a concrete adjustment that gives both themes a role instead of trying to eliminate one.

Sun Conjunction Mercury · 2°20′ · Separating

These two themes occupy nearly the same direction in the zodiac. Their expression may feel closely blended; it can help to notice when one need is taking over the space of the other.

Mercury Sextile Jupiter · 2°25′ · Separating

This relationship is traditionally read as a useful opening between the two themes. It suggests an option to practice cooperation, rather than a benefit that arrives without participation.

Moon Trine Jupiter · 2°52′ · Applying

This relationship is traditionally associated with ease and familiar strengths. Notice what already works, and consider how to use it deliberately rather than taking it for granted.

Sun Sextile Moon · 2°56′ · Applying

This relationship is traditionally read as a useful opening between the two themes. It suggests an option to practice cooperation, rather than a benefit that arrives without participation.

Venus Square Jupiter · 4°44′ · Applying

This angle symbolizes friction between needs that do not automatically fit together. Experiment with a concrete adjustment that gives both themes a role instead of trying to eliminate one.

Uranus Conjunction Neptune · 5°43′ · Separating

These two themes occupy nearly the same direction in the zodiac. Their expression may feel closely blended; it can help to notice when one need is taking over the space of the other.

Moon Conjunction Mars · 7°09′ · Separating

These two themes occupy nearly the same direction in the zodiac. Their expression may feel closely blended; it can help to notice when one need is taking over the space of the other.

Venus Opposition Saturn · 7°35′ · Separating

These themes face each other across the chart. Their symbolism invites perspective and balance: a relationship or situation may make you more aware of a need you usually place outside yourself.

Applying means the angular error is decreasing at the calculation instant; separating means it is increasing. Angle aspects include the motion of the local horizon/meridian.

Orb limits (degrees): Conjunction: 8 · Sextile: 4 · Square: 6 · Trine: 6 · Opposition: 8 · angles: 8

Element & modality balance

Fire: 2 · Earth: 4 · Air: 2 · Water: 2

Cardinal: 4 · Fixed: 3 · Mutable: 3

These counts include all ten planets equally. Slow planets describe shared generational themes.

